

Railing Measuring Instructions and Tips

It may be necessary to use a Newel Post (as shown) instead of installing Railing directly into house depending on the composition of the area where the railing would mount into the house.

Always measure to the edge, rounding up to the nearest foot for ordering. For example, if your measurement is 68" you would order a 6 foot section and cut it to fit, removing an equal amount from both ends.

For Stairs: Measure from edge of bottom step to edge of top step as shown.
